

MARCELLA NIEHOFF
SCHOOL of NURSING

The Loyola University Chicago, Marcella Niehoff School of Nursing, seeks dynamic, visionary faculty to service in two new leadership positions, and in two faculty positions.

Associate Dean of Inclusive Excellence

This new position brings exciting opportunities to create a collaborative vision for inclusive excellence that transcends all aspects of the school and beyond.

Associate Dean for Innovative Partnerships and Faculty Practice

This new position brings exceptional opportunities for providing strategic vision and leadership for faculty practice and community and academic practice partnerships at the local, regional, state, national, and global levels.

We also have positions available for Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing Faculty and Family Nurse Practitioner Faculty for appointment at the Clinical Assistant Professor rank or higher based on the applicant's program of scholarship and teaching experience.
